

Space to Work, Host, and Recharge

The Jefferson is designed to adapt easily from productive weekdays to relaxed weekends. A covered front porch leads into a wide, welcoming entry, where a dedicated study creates a focused work-from-home space set apart from the main living areas.

At the center of the home, the great room, kitchen, and dining area open together along the back wall, oriented toward the covered patio. A spacious island keeps the kitchen connected to the conversation, while rear windows and an optional fireplace make the great room a warm, inviting gathering space. With direct patio access from the dining area, indoor-outdoor living becomes a natural extension of everyday life.

Two secondary bedrooms with walk-in closets share a full bath on one side of the home, forming a comfortable and private wing for guests, hobbies, or visiting family. This thoughtful separation allows guests to feel at home without disrupting daily routines.

Privately positioned on the opposite side, the primary suite offers a quiet retreat with a generous bedroom, walk-in closet, and well-appointed bath. Convenient access to the laundry and garage entry enhances everyday functionality, while the suite's location ensures privacy just steps from the heart of the home.
